CONTRACT FOR INDEPENDENT CONTRACTOR/PROFESSIONAL SERVICES

This Contract is made as of the ____day of _____, 2013 by and between the City of _____, a municipal corporation of the State of _____, (hereinafter "the CITY"), and the International City/County Management Association, a not-for-profit corporation incorporated under the laws of the State of Illinois, whose principal office is located in Washington, D.C. (hereinafter "the CONTRACTOR") and whose Federal I.D. number is 36-2167755.

WHEREAS, the CITY desires to retain the CONTRACTOR, and the CONTRACTOR desires to be retained, pursuant to the proposal scope of services attached hereto as Exhibit "A" and incorporated herein in its entirety;

NOW, THEREFORE, in consideration of the mutual promises contained herein, the CITY and the CONTRACTOR agree as follows:

ARTICLE 1 - SERVICES

The services to be rendered by CONTRACTOR under this Contract are set forth in Exhibit "A" (proposal) attached hereto.

ARTICLE 2 - SCHEDULE

The schedule for services to be rendered by CONTRACTOR is set forth in Exhibit "A" attached hereto. The project and final deliverables shall be completed per the schedule in Exhibit "A", which is approximately one hundred twenty (120) days after this Agreement is fully executed, subject to a mutually agreeable extension if necessary. The delivery of an "Operations" and "Data Analysis" draft report shall indicate conclusion of the work anticipated in the proposal. Following delivery of the draft reports, the CITY shall have 30 days to submit any changes it finds prudent or necessary. Sixty days from the delivery of the draft reports, the final report shall be produced and transmitted electronically. Both of these time periods shall be in addition to the time period for conducting the analysis and will not require extensions of the contract. The CITY may elect to engage optional language in the contract to request a final in-person presentation which shall be done outside of the time parameters of this contract.

ARTICLE 3 - PAYMENTS TO CONTRACTOR

Payment by the CITY under this Contract shall be governed by Exhibit "A".

ARTICLE 4 - TERMINATION

Unless the CONTRACTOR is in breach of the Contract, the CONTRACTOR shall be paid for services rendered to the CITY's satisfaction through the date of termination. All persons engaged in any of the work or services performed pursuant to this Contract shall at all times, and in all places, be subject to the CONTRACTOR's sole direction, supervision, and control. The CONTRACTOR shall exercise control over the means and manner in which it and its employees perform the work, and in all respects the CONTRACTOR's relationship and the relationship of its employees to the CITY shall be that of an independent contractor and not as employees or agents of the CITY.

The CONTRACTOR is responsible for the payment of any deductibles or self-insured retentions.

The CITY will be named as additional insured under the CONTRACTOR's general liability insurance and automobile liability insurance policies.

ASSOCIATION for HUMAN RESOURCES

The Chief Selection Advantage™

Since 2006 representatives of ICMA and IPMA-HR have served as members of the Advisory Committee Board of the Law Enforcement Leadership Initiative (LELI). This project NCs funded by the Department of Justice, Bureau of Justice Assistance to identify the core competencies required to be a successful police administrator. After participating in this project for several years, it became clear to ICMA & IPMA-HR that the current processes that most city managers and HR Directors use to select police managers were not meeting the needs of the communities their members serve, often resulting in a selection process that did not clearly identify the true skills and abilities needed for the chief law enforcement officer of the particular community. In discussing these issues with members of our respective professional associations, we identified an alternative strategy to offer to our members.

Building upon past joint efforts, ICMA and IPMA-HR entered into a partnership, with the goal to provide assistance to local governments in the chief selection process. These two premier associations selected as their technical advisors the Pittman – McLenagan Group, a highly experienced leader in the testing and selection field.

This ICMA / IPMA-HR / PMG alliance is not a traditional recruiting / selection consulting firm. We do not recruit candidates or participate in rating or selecting candidates. We do not create “short lists” or in any way interject our judgment into the selection process. We believe that the local government is capable of conducting sophisticated selection processes if they have the tools and professional expertise available to them which our alliance can provide.

In addition to the technical expertise grounded in professional and legal guidelines that the alliance provides in the formal selection and assessment process, we also have the unique capability to assess the police department in advance of the selection process to identify the challenges that the new commissioner will face. That information is critical to identifying the skills and abilities needed in the successful candidate.

International City/County Management Association (ICMA)

The International City/County Management Association (ICMA) is a 100 year old, non-profit professional association of local government administrators and managers, with approximately 9,000 members located in 32 countries.

Since its inception in 1914, ICMA has been dedicated to assisting local governments in providing services to its citizens in an efficient and effective manner. Our work spans all of the activities of local government – parks, libraries, recreation, public works, economic development, code enforcement, Brownfield’s, public safety, etc.

ICMA advances the knowledge of local government best practices across a wide range of platforms including publications, research, training, and technical assistance. Our work includes both domestic and international activities in partnership with local, state and federal governments as well as private foundations. For example, we are involved in a major library research project funded by the Bill and Linda Gates Foundation and we are providing community policing training in Panama working with the U.S. State Department. We have personnel in Afghanistan assisting with building wastewater treatment plants and have teams in Central America providing training in disaster relief working with SOUTHCOM.

The ICMA Center for Public Safety Management (ICMA/CPSM) is one of four Centers within the US Programs Division of ICMA providing support to local governments in the areas of police, fire, EMS, Emergency Management and Homeland Security. In addition to providing technical assistance in these areas we also represent local governments at the federal level and are involved in numerous projects with the Department of Justice and the Department of Homeland Security.

ICMA/CPSM is also involved in police and fire chief selection; assisting local governments in identifying these critical managers thru original research we have conducted identifying the core competencies of police and fire managers and providing assessment center resources.

Our local government technical assistance includes workload and deployment analysis, using our unique methodology and subject matter experts to examine department organizational structure and culture, identify workload and staffing needs as well as industry best practices. We have conducted over 195 such studies in 304 states and 91 communities ranging in size from 8,000 population Boone, IA, to tourist meccas such as 586,000 population Las Vegas, to state capitols such as 800,000 population Indianapolis, IN.

We have provided Chief Selection Advantage™ assistance to communities as diverse as Santa Monica, California; Hampton, Virginia, Belton, Texas and Vancouver, Washington.

Why the Chief Selection Advantage™ can help you make the right choice.

“Executives spend more time on managing people and making people decisions than on anything else – and they should. No other decisions are so long-lasting in their consequences or so difficult to make”. “And yet, by and large, executives make poor promotion and staffing decisions ... their batting average is no better than .333 ... In no other area of management would we put up with such miserable performance. ... we need not and we should not ... especially since in no other area of management do we know so much”. “Making the right people decisions is the ultimate means of controlling an organization well. Such decisions reveal how competent management really is, what its values are and whether it takes its job seriously.” — Peter F. Drucker

So how does an organization get it right? By doing it right! Unfortunately, just like other business processes, there are good and bad methods of selection. Frequently, management is not aware of the industry standards for “doing it right” and fall into the trap of using what has been done in the past or what someone else has done. Or worse, they may contract out the recruitment and selection process surrendering much of the important decision making process to consultants. The process of selecting individuals should be carefully considered using research and best practices to ensure the right process is used.

One would think that in this day and age that science and proven methods would predominate. Unfortunately the opposite is true. Many Police Chief selection decisions are highly unstructured and based mostly on emotions. In fact, the primary professionals responsible for executive recruitment and selection typically rely on unstructured interviews and reference checks in making their decisions. Perhaps not so amazing is the fact that these are the types of tools that inhabit the low end of the validity continuum (Howard, 2001). Unstructured processes are simply less predictive than processes with more structure. Using less predictive tools makes it more difficult to gather relevant, valid, reliable data and thus, more difficult to make a good decision.

The proper research – understanding the organization, analyzing the job, focusing the assessment tools, effectively implementing the process – all serve to increase the ability to predict success and the validity of the process. This could not be more important than when selecting the person to lead and drive the department. Understanding the environment, conducting the right research and asking the right questions are all part of “doing it right.” The Alliance of ICMA, IPMA and PMG, all leaders in the industry, bring all of these things to the table.

The ICMA Center for Public Safety Management (ICMA/CPSM) is one of four Centers within the US Programs of ICMA, providing support to local governments in the areas of police, fire, EMS, Emergency Management and Homeland Security. In addition to providing technical assistance in these areas we also represent local governments at the federal level and are involved in numerous projects with the Department of Justice and the Department of Homeland Security.

ICMA/CPSM is also involved in police and fire chief selection; assisting local governments in identifying these critical managers through original research we have conducted identifying the core competencies of police and fire managers and providing assessment center resources.

Our local government technical assistance includes workload and deployment analysis, using Operations Research techniques and credentialed experts to identify workload and staffing needs as well as best practices. We have conducted approximately 150 such studies for 87 jurisdictions in 29 states in communities ranging in size from 8,000 population Boone, IA to 800,000 population Indianapolis, IN.

PMG has vast experience creating a wide range of assessment tools based on professional and legal guidelines important to the success of selection programs. Such tools include screening guidelines, structured interviews, assessment center exercises, knowledge/technical tests, video-based and computer based tests.

The Project – Exhibit “A”

The following (pages 6 to 11) describes the process by which we will conduct the project for the City of Rye as well as terms and conditions of fee schedules and will be considered as part of the Contract for Professional Services.

Chief Selection Advantage™ Process

- A. Stakeholders Interviews and Documents Review: We will conduct a two day, on site review of the police department with two subject matter experts. We will meet with the current commissioner, command staff, representatives of the workforce, other city department heads and other stakeholders identified by the city manager. We will meet with up to twenty stakeholders and/or focus groups. Additionally we will review internal department documents such as policy and procedures manuals, operating orders and training records. Our purpose will be to develop a clear understanding of the challenges the next commissioner will face. This review will be utilized as the initial input for the job analysis.
- B. Job Analysis: We will locally validate the results of a nationally conducted job analysis for the position of Police Commissioner. This national study NCs recently completed by the ICMA / IPMA-HR / PMG alliance. The national study is a powerful tool used in supporting the Chief Selection Advantage™. One of the interesting findings of the study was that differences in the size of the communities that an agency serves drives the competency set required of that agency's commissioner. Those results will be used as a beginning point in the job analysis for the City. This effort will verify those results where they are a good match for the City and customize them where they are not and, in so doing, will ensure that the resulting uses of the job analysis are focused entirely on the needs of the City. The job analysis, using a content validity strategy and adhering to professional and legal requirements (CFR 29, 1607, UNIFORM GUIDELINES ON EMPLOYEE SELECTION PROCEDURES), will identify experience, education, and training requirements that are required or desired at entry into the position. This information can be used by the City to screen candidate resumes. The job analysis will also identify critical and important tasks to be performed by the position and critical and important Knowledge, Skills and Abilities and Other characteristics (KSAOs) to be used in the development of assessment exercises used in the assessment center and structured interview questions.
- C. Resume: The City will request that candidates submit a resume that they believe reflects their skills and competencies as they relate to the position of Police Commissioner in the City. Candidates should consider the environment and the community for the City when submitting their resume.
- D. Structured Resume Screen: Using the job analysis results and input from the City, we will develop a resume screen to be used by the City to review and evaluate resumes of all candidates and determine who should be considered further.
- E. Structured Phone Interview Screen: The City will contact by phone those candidates deemed qualified for further consideration to discuss their skills and competencies as they relate to this job. We will develop the instrument for the use of the City to conduct this interview process.

- F. Assessment Center: Using the job analysis results and input from the City, we will develop assessment center exercises focused on the needs of the City and designed to assess those critical competencies enabling excellent performance in the position of Police Commissioner. The assessment center will be used as part of the evaluation of a select number of candidates. While assessment centers are considered best practice for selection assessment, assessment centers customized to the specific needs of not only the position but to the unique requirements of the jurisdiction within which the position must operate, perform even better. Not only does customization put “face” validity on the exercises and their content, it helps to ensure a best fit approach that generic exercises cannot address.

Candidates will be asked to respond to a series of scenarios reflective of performing as the Police Commissioner. For example, candidates may be asked to make a presentation on a relevant city issue to a specific “community” group or to the “city council”, and review a written packet of information related to a problem facing the city and respond with an analysis and a set of specific recommendations. In addition, candidates can be presented an emergency management / command scenario that is representative of those scenarios that the Police Commissioner might face. We will provide specific training for the exercises to the identified individuals who will assess the assessment center performance. We will develop a structured interview focused on the critical competencies for the City to further evaluate the best candidates remaining after the assessment center. This interview will be conducted by city officials after training by us.

- G. Final Selection: For those candidates considered through all phases of the process, city officials will consider all information and make a final selection. Candidates may be invited to a final interview with city officials before a final decision is made.
